This module contains a screen which is cycling between two grids of 36 letters. Grid A will refer to the light blue letters, and Grid B will refer to the dark blue colors.

Within these letters is a word from the table below.

Each letter of the word in the grid must be adjacent to the letters next to it in the word, and each consecutive letter in the word must alternate between Grid A and Grid B. The first letter of the word may be on either of the two grids. Note that the grid does wrap around.

The correct word is one of the four words in the word list below whose first letter matches the first letter in the serial number.

Select each of these letters and then select any previously selected letter to submit the selection. Reset your current input by holding any selected letter for at least one second.

Selecting a letter that does not follow the above requirements, or submitting an incorrect selection will incur a strike.
